

JACKRABBIT™

FULL METAL™

Combining all the great operating features of the original JackRabbit with the strength and durability of an all-metal deck, JackRabbit Full Metal is the toughest, best looking retractable cover on the market!

JackRabbit Full Metal Deck is made of tough powder coated extruded aluminum panels, interlocked for strength and durability.

Weather sealed, low profile Latch n'Lok operating system allows the cover to be latched every 12" providing maximum use of your bed. The latch is offset to the driver's side so you don't have to crawl into the box to lock the cover when partially open.

Pace Edwards exclusive Continuous Tension Spring allows the JackRabbit to be closed with the least amount of effort in the industry. Over 50% less than some of our competitors!

Yes there is a cover on that truck! Flush with the top of the bed rail, Pace Edwards LoPro canister design provides a sleek look that enhances the beauty of your truck.

Thicker, lighter and stronger than aluminum, Pace Edwards canisters are constructed of thermoformed ABS, a composite material widely used in exterior truck applications because it won't dent or rust. No additional bulky shields required!

JACKRABBIT™

All the same great operating features as the Full-Metal JackRabbit with the original ArmorTek™ Deck blanket design.

The Original JackRabbits ArmorTek deck material combines roll formed aluminum panels with automotive grade vinyl. This unique composite cover gives you all the strength you need and the good looks you want!
